

BINDZONE STUDIO POLICIES

1. Liability Waiver

- a. You must sign the liability waiver prior to stepping into BINDZONE, purchasing a pricing plan, and/or signing up for any virtual and/or in person service. Failure to do so will result in denied entry, and denied access to services. You can access this via your phone, and then you will be allowed to enter once the waiver form is completed and submitted.

2. Video/Photography

- a. Please note that classes can be filmed for the whole duration.
- b. Your instructor holds the right to record all classes and sessions, however, will respect those who do not wish to be on film for social media posts. Your instructor will ask prior to recording if everyone is comfortable with being put on social media. If anyone answers “no”, you will either be blurred out if you appear in the video, or your instructor will simply avoid filming you.

3. Right to Refuse Service

- a. BINDZONE holds the right to refuse service to any person due to disruption, safety/health concerns, capacity limits, policy violations, and/or disrespect towards the studio and its members. No political discussion will be tolerated.
- b. If a drop-in payment and/or membership termination occurs due to the above, there will be no refunds issued.

4. Group Fitness Classes

- a. All class bookings open 30 days in advance, and bookings close 1 hour prior to the start of class time. Morning classes will be cancelled by 10:30p the night prior, and evening classes will be cancelled by 12p the day of if there are no sign ups.
- b. There is no minimum number of people required to run a group fitness class, however, there is a maximum of 6 clients allowed in at a time.
- c. If an in person class is at maximum capacity, you are able to join the waitlist, or book virtually instead.
 - i. The waitlist will provide you with a chance to join a class if someone cancels their booking. You will not automatically get added into class, but you will have 15 minutes after being notified that a client cancelled their booking to add yourself in. If you do not do so within 15 minutes, you will lose your spot, and the next person in the waitlist will have 15 minutes to add themselves, etc.
 - ii. All “in person” pricing plans allow you to book studio classes in person or virtual via Zoom. Please pay attention to whether you have booked a “V” (virtual) or “IP” (in person) class. If you accidentally book virtual, and arrive in person, you might not be able to attend if we are at maximum capacity in the studio, due to town regulations.

- d. Please arrive at least 5 minutes prior to the start of class time so you can set up for class. We understand that some things are out of your control, so there will be a 5 minute grace period for those who may come in late. Please note, the door is locked once class begins, and depending on the class, you might not be allowed in after the warm up is over.
 - i. Strength and cardio-based classes require a proper warm-up, and CIRCL Mobility is a choreographed class. Your instructor is unable to let you in once the warm-up portion is over for those classes, and your instructor cannot stop teaching CIRCL Mobility to let you in.
 - ii. Stability and flexibility-based classes may allow for more freedom to let late arrivers in since there is no required warm-up, however, please do your best to arrive on time. Please try to respect the time of yourself, other members, and your instructor. Plan your travels accordingly!
- e. Phone use is not permitted during class.
- f. Bundle pricing may apply for select 1:1 and group coaching plans.
- g. GROUP FITNESS LATE CANCEL / NO-SHOW POLICY
